Dear Parents,

As you are aware this year, the school has been moving towards teaching maths in a 'mastery style'. Due to this change in focus we have decided that the 'Abacus' scheme will not be used, therefore the Abacus on-line learning homework will no longer be accessible.

We are investigating alternative ways that the children will be able to practice their maths on the computer, which match the mastery approach we are using. We will let you know as soon as these are set up.

However, in the meantime please see the list of websites below that your child could use to help develop their maths skills:

Thank you for your continued support.
